

Thomas Tison

Thomas brings over thirty-five years of successful experience as coach and consultant to his consulting practice. He has worked as the Executive Director of a social service agency, organizational development consultant, college instructor, trainer and counselor.

In his role as Change Management Strategist at Bonneville Power Administration, Tom worked as internal executive coach, organizational development training specialist, instructor of management and team development programs, facilitator of executive sessions, provider of conflict management services and intervention in workplace environmental issues.

Tom received the Administrators Excellence Award in 2013 for Exceptional Service.

Prior to his career at Bonneville, Tom worked as the Executive Director /Family Counselor for St. Vincent de Paul Child Development Center. He also served as President of the Oregon State Child Care Commission.

Tom earned his B.S. in Education and his M.S. in Counseling Psychology from Eastern Illinois University. Tom has consulted to several business and government clients including Western Electricity Coordinating Council (WECC), Nike, IBM, PGE, and NOAA. He has presented at national seminars and is an associate of Ceridian Performance Partners and Concern Employee Assistance Program (EAP).

Tom has certifications as a licensed KRH Consultant, as well as the following: EQ-I & EQ-360 (Reuven Bar-On), EQ Learning in Action, Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (II), PROSCI Change Management, and Strength Finders Coach and Facilitator.

Tom and his wife, Mary moved from Illinois to the Pacific Northwest in 1970 and settled in Portland, Oregon in 1972. They have three children and two grandchildren. Tom endeavors to live a conscious and purposeful life. He brings exceptional listening skills and extraordinary sensitivity and caring to the challenges of coaching and consultation.

For more information on Tom's consulting services, contact thomas.tison@outlook.com.